

≡ Item Navigation

Glossary terms from week 1

Terms and definitions from Course 4, Week 1

Application: A program that performs a specific task

Basic Input/Output System (BIOS): A microchip that contains loading instructions for the computer and is prevalent in older systems

Bootloader: A software program that boots the operating system

Command-line interface (CLI): A text-based user interface that uses commands to interact with the computer

Graphical user interface (GUI): A user interface that uses icons on the screen to manage different tasks on the computer

Hardware: The physical components of a computer

Legacy operating system: An operating system that is outdated but still being used

Operating system (OS): The interface between computer hardware and the user

Unified Extensible Firmware Interface (UEFI): A microchip that contains loading instructions for the computer and replaces BIOS on more modern systems

User interface: A program that allows the user to control the functions of the operating system

Mark as completed

Like

Dislike

Report an issue